ORIGIN	D.O. Ribera del Duero
TYPE OF WINE AND VINTAGE	Red 2014

SERVING TEMPERATURE	14° - 16° C approx.
VINEYARDS	The average age of the vines is over 60 years. Vineyards located at an altitude of over 900m, grown on the typical soils of the Ribera del Duero - sand, clay and limestone in the areas between Soria and Valladolid, passing through Burgos - selected for their expression of elegance and delicacy in the wines.
PRODUCTION PROCESS	After a rigorous monitoring of ripeness, the grapes are harvested by hand in 20 kg crates. Selection of fruit by hand on a sorting table. Very gentle destalking and crushing of the grapes. Four days of cold maceration prior to fermentation, with 20 days maceration in total. Malolactic fermentation in tanks at a controlled temperature.

TASTING NOTE

VISUAL

Intense red colour.

NOSE

A complex, perfumed wine with notes of black and red fruit, combined with hints of resinous oils, light spices and violets.

PALATE

On the palate it is rounded, juicy and fresh. A long, fleshy, mineral finish. Perfectly balanced with noticeable elegance.
